

Four Endocrine Surgeons Wanted

HOSPITAL for ENDOCRINE SURGERY, Tampa, Florida

The Hospital for Endocrine Surgery is a new hospital built specifically for endocrine surgery as a centerpiece hospital within the largest hospital chain in the US. This full-service hospital with 10 operating rooms, 40 beds, and full pathology, radiology, and other ancillary services is opening Q3 2020 and is recruiting technically and clinically superb, fellowship-trained endocrine surgeons to join the 12 surgeons within the practices of the Norman Parathyroid, Clayman Thyroid, and Carling Adrenal Centers. The Hospital for Endocrine Surgery is the sole hospital in North America where the entire facility is dedicated exclusively to patients with endocrine surgical disease. The practices currently perform nearly 6,500 endocrine surgery operations per year on patients from all around the world. We expect to exceed 10,000 endocrine operations annually by 2024.

We are looking to hire 3-4 surgeons immediately to start in July, and another 3 in the next 12 months. Specifically, we are looking for expertise in thyroid, parathyroid, and adrenal surgery, including advanced endoscopic, remote-access, robotic, and trans-oral approaches to the thyroid. Candidates must have completed an accredited residency program in general or ENT surgery and successfully completed (or about to complete) a fellowship in endocrine surgery. Candidates must have a superb record of clinical and technical excellence. A dedication to surgical and technological innovation with an interest in entrepreneurship, the development of “the next big thing”, and translational and/or clinical research is encouraged and will be supported. We are looking to add several seasoned surgeons with 3-10 years endocrine surgery experience, as well as those who are newly trained looking for their first job. Expectations are for endocrine surgery only with no ER coverage, and no general surgery coverage.

We are hiring now so applications and inquiries are encouraged immediately. The surgeons of the Hospital for Endocrine Surgery will be hosting an introductory event during the upcoming AAES meeting (April 4-6, 2020) in Birmingham, AL. Please contact us now for an interview in Tampa, and then come by for a cocktail and chat with us in Birmingham about this amazing and unique opportunity.

Applicants should send a cover letter, and curriculum vitae with a list of 3 references. All inquiries will be kept strictly confidential. All application materials should be submitted electronically to:
