

Endocrine Surgeon
Departments of Surgery and Oncology
Cumming School of Medicine

The Departments of Surgery and Oncology, Alberta Health Services-Calgary Zone and University of Calgary in partnership with The Arnie Charbonneau Cancer Institute invite applications for a Contingent Term academic position at the Assistant Professor level. The successful applicant will have their primary appointment in the Department of Surgery with a joint appointment in the Department of Oncology.

Qualifications include an MD or equivalent, have an active, or eligible to obtain, a Fellowship in the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada (FRCSC) in General Surgery with clinical fellowship training in Endocrine Surgery, or Surgical Oncology with a focus on Endocrine Surgery, and eligibility for licensure in the Province of Alberta.

Candidates must be able to demonstrate academic excellence in clinical research, quality improvement, or education. They must have a proven track record of excellence in research as demonstrated by publications (at least five) in high impact peer-reviewed journals, presentations at academic meetings and the ability to demonstrate successful competition for peer-reviewed funding at the national level. It is anticipated that the successful candidate will become a member of The Arnie Charbonneau Cancer Institute in the Cumming School of Medicine. Contributions to trainee supervision, mentorship and teaching will be expected. Applicants should include how their research aligns with the University of Calgary's Eyes High Strategy (<https://www.ucalgary.ca/eyeshigh/strategy>) and the Arnie Charbonneau Cancer Institute's cancer research framework (<http://wcm.ucalgary.ca/charbonneau/files/charbonneau/calgary-cancer-research-framework.png>) in their research interest statement and teaching philosophy.

The successful individual will have an appointment with the University of Calgary, Cumming School of Medicine, Department of Surgery, Sections of General Surgery and Surgical Oncology with a joint appointment in the Department of Oncology. The successful candidate will be expected to take full call within the Section of General Surgery.

The University of Calgary is Canada's leading next-generation university – a living, growing and youthful institution that embraces change and opportunity with a can-do attitude. Located in the nation's most enterprising city, the university is making tremendous progress on its Eyes High journey to be recognized as one of Canada's top five research universities, grounded in innovative learning and teaching and fully integrated with the community it both serves and leads. The University of Calgary inspires and supports discovery, creativity and innovation across all disciplines. For more information, visit ucalgary.ca.

Calgary is one of the world's cleanest cities and has been named one of the world's most livable cities for years. Calgary is a city of leaders - in business, community, philanthropy and volunteerism. Calgarians benefit from a growing number of world-class dining and cultural events and enjoy more days of sunshine per year than any other major Canadian city. Calgary is less than an hour's drive from the majestic Rocky Mountains and boasts the most extensive urban pathway and bikeway network in North America.

The Cumming School of Medicine seeks to recruit and retain a diverse and inclusive workforce that will contribute to creating the future of health. We are committed to fostering diversity through cultivating an environment where people with a variety of backgrounds, genders, interests, and talents feel welcome and supported.

Interested individuals are encouraged to submit an application online via University of Calgary webpage using the 'Apply Now' link.

Please be aware that the application process allows for a maximum of four attachments. Your four application attachments should be organized to contain the following (you are encouraged to merge documents to reduce the number of attachments):

The University of Calgary recognizes that a diverse staff/faculty benefits and enriches the work, learning and research experiences of the entire campus and greater community. We are committed to removing barriers that have been historically encountered by some people in our society. We strive to recruit individuals who will further enhance our diversity and will support their academic and professional success while they are here; in particular, we encourage members of the four designated groups (women, Aboriginal People, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities) to apply. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. To ensure a fair and equitable assessment, we offer accommodation at any stage during the recruitment process to applicants with disabilities. Questions regarding diversity or requests for accommodation can be sent to Human Resources (hrhire@ucalgary.ca).
